Bangabandhu's Shonar Bangla: A Land of Limitless Investment Opportunities

Draft

CONCEPT NOTE

CONTEXT

The dream of Shonar Bangla - a land of peace and prosperity - which has propelled the phenomenal growth of Bangladesh economy was first envisioned by the Father of the Nation Bangabandhu Sheikh Mujibur Rahman. After leading the Liberation War of 1971, he took the helm of the nation ravaged by war. He established a far-sighted and progressive policy framework to revive the industrial economy, improve institutional efficiency and profitability, rebuild infrastructure and utilize ideas and innovations from across the world. His unique policy vision continues to be realized by the Honourable Prime Minister Sheikh Hasina, M.P., who is now leading Bangladesh towards its future as a developed nation.

Investment Promotion, which in Bengali is called “BINIYOG BIKASH”, is listed as one of her top ten special initiatives. On the occasion of MUJIB BORSHO alias Mujib 100, the birth centennial of the Father of the Nation, her Government is moving towards achieving goals that are deeply ingrained in the people's development aspirations.

Bangladesh has emerged as one of the world's economic success stories and a frontier market. Goldman Sachs classified it among the Next 11 emerging economies, and at present, it is the 40th largest in the world in nominal GDP terms. Bangladesh achieved the threshold for attaining a lower middle-income status in 2015. The economy grew at an admirable rate of 8.15% in FY2019, and has been growing at a robust rate of over 7% on average over the last decade. In the face of the COVID-19 pandemic, the economy experienced a positive growth rate of 5.24%, far above many of its neighbors. As the world economy opens up gradually, Bangladesh is seen to be among the Top-5 most resilient economies in the face of the pandemic adversities.

The World Economic Forum has commended Bangladesh for continuing its strong development trajectory and for marching ahead of other South Asian countries in terms of its ranking on the Inclusive Development Index (IDI), GDP growth rate and other human development achievements. Bangladesh has met United Nations' criteria to graduate from Least Developed Country (LDC) status and, despite the COVID-19 pandemic, the country has secured the final recommendation of the United Nations' Committee for Development Policy (CDP) for its graduation to the status of developing nation.

The Government of Bangladesh acknowledges the significant contributions of the private sector and is committed to establishing a more conducive investment climate to uphold and grow the business in the country. In 2019, the country became a Top-20 improver of the World Bank's Doing Business index. Also, Bangladesh is embracing digital transformation. The country operationalized an online and interoperable One Stop Service (OSS) for services of multiple agencies to enable easy and contactless G2B investment related service delivery. Moreover, the Government's digital inclusion strategy aims to promote the uptake of mobile financial system and other digital payment platforms.

Existing investors have reaped the ample advantages of operating in Bangladesh. The macroeconomic stability, offers of fiscal and non-fiscal business incentives, large domestic market, access to international markets, strong COVID-19 recovery, investment hubs like economic zones and high tech parks and availability of skilled & suitable workforce and manufacturing base have driven high profitability for corporations. The business confidence is well-reflected by the substantial re-investment of earnings by foreign direct investors, which was 63.7% in FY2020. Also, according to a study by JETRO, 70.3% of the Japanese companies in Bangladesh was found to be looking to expand their business in next 1 to 2 years.

Bangladesh Investment Development Authority (BIDA), the apex investment promotion agency (IPA) of the country, is going to organize this International Investment Summit. As a statutory organization working under the stewardship of Prime Minister's Office, BIDA aspires to promote investment in the country through this candid event.
